

Escape to Everywhere

We're taking a daytrip.
We're going nowhere
Like anywhere else.
Not like here. Not like there.

We've been to both places,
But have to declare
That anywhere else
Is unlike everywhere.

Here's where we are at
And there's where we were.
We'll always be somewhere,
Whatever occurs,

And though anywhere
Can be somewhere, I know,
Everywhere is a place
Everyone ought to go.

So stay here or go there
Any time any day,
But wherever you go
I would just like to say

That until you've been everywhere
Nowhere will seem
Quite as good as the place
That you never have been.

